LOMIKO ADDS ENVIRONMENTAL CONSULTANT TO COAL TEAM

Vancouver, BC – Lomiko Resources Inc. (“Lomiko” or the “Company”) announced today that Mr. Jason V. Nelson has joined Lomiko as a consultant in relation to its decision to stake Saskatchewan coal leases with the assistance of Paleosands Petroleum Corp.

Mr. Nelson has been working in the environmental field for over 15 years, including more than 10 years as an environmental consultant. His expertise and experience includes coordination and management of multi-disciplinary teams, environmental assessment and monitoring, soil and terrain mapping, and reclamation planning. Over the course of his career, Mr. Nelson has conducted environmental studies for a broad range of Saskatchewan mining exploration and development projects, including coal, uranium, base metal and potash sectors. He has also conducted environmental surveys in Alberta, Manitoba and the NWT. He is currently a part-time instructor in soil science in the Natural Resources Technology Program at the Saskatchewan Institute of Applied Science and Technology in Prince Albert, Saskatchewan.

Mr. Nelson holds a Bachelor of Science in Physical Geography and Environmental Studies from the University of Saskatchewan. He also completed several years of graduate training in soil science from the same institution. Mr. Nelson is also a member of the Geological Association of Canada and the Canadian Society of Soil Science.
