LOMIKO TO PRESENT VIEWS ON THE GRAPHITE REVOLUTION
AT THE MONEY EXPO APRIL 21, 2012

Vancouver BC - LOMIKO METALS INC. (TSX-V:LMR, OTC: LMRMF, Europe: ISIN: CA54163Q1028, WKN: A0Q9W7,) (the "Company") will attend the Money Expo which will be held April 21, 2012 in Kelowna, B.C. to speak on the phenomena CEO A. Paul Gill has called "The Graphite Revolution". Investors have scrambled to invest in companies as the companies themselves participate in a staking and acquisition frenzy in Southern Quebec and Ontario in the Grenville Geological Region.

Lomiko optioned the Quebec Quatre Milles Graphite Property January 5, 2012 to search for large flake, crystallite graphite which is sought after for use in creating graphene, a newly discovered, chicken-wire shaped formation of carbon which is one-atom thick and has incredible properties that can make it 200 times stronger than steel, a superconductor at room temperature and heat-resistant. Research scientists world-wide are experimenting with new technology that uses graphene and at least 100 new patents have been filed. Two scientists that made the discovery of graphene won the Nobel Prize for Physics in 2010.

The conference will feature speakers on all aspects of wealth management and investment strategy with David Morgan of Silver Investor speaking on Silver, Keith Schaefer of the Investments Bulletin speaking on Oil and Gas and Danielle Park on Wealth Protection.

Registration for the event is still available at <http://moneyexpo.ca/index.php/register/attendee>

The Quatre Milles Property is road accessible and is located approximately 175 km northwest of Montreal and 17 km due north of the village of Sainte-Veronique, Quebec. The property consists of 28 contiguous claims totaling approximately 1,600 hectares.
